

CISUI - Centro interuniversitario
per la storia delle università italiane

Dear Colleague,

the «Annali di Storia delle università italiane» have come this year to its 19th year of publication, recording a continuous growing interest of the scientific world and welcoming the contribution and collaboration of more than 700 researchers.

To facilitate a more effective distribution also internationally, the Scientific Committee of the Cisui (Inter-University Centre for the History of Italian universities) has decided to publish the journal with the publisher "Il Mulino", which can ensure a broader distribution and editions both printed and online.

Besides, starting from 2015 the journal will have a half-yearly periodicity. The issue of the first semester will host a section dealing with a theme of historiographical importance for the history of universities; the issue of the second semester will host a section called Out of Italy, dedicated to the history of non-Italian universities and to the relationships between universities of different countries. This section will accept contributions of colleagues from other countries who are active within the university historiography.

The deadlines for the delivery of the articles, that will always be submitted to two referees, are laid down in January and June of each year.

The journal will host papers in Italian, English, French and Spanish.

Our wish is that you too can and will give your contribution on the history of universities, thus enriching the discussion and collaboration among those involved in this field. Of course you can extend this proposal to other scholars who, in your opinion, might welcome this invitation.

Looking forward to your kind reply, I send you my best wishes
